DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 35-37, 39, and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 35 and 39, last lines respectively, it is not clear what the implication of "any transmission is prohibited" is. It seems that the limitation states that communication is performed after any transmission is prohibited, which does not make much sense. If there is no transmission, there is no communication. Clarification is required.

In claim 36, it is unclear "what" is the communication apparatus being claimed. If it is a master station, then the functions of the receiving unit and the control unit don't seem to fit, and if the communication apparatus is a slave station, then the function of negotiation unit doesn't seem to fit.

In claim 40, it is unclear between what two devices the communication method is performed. It is further not clear what kind of device performs the negotiation step, the receiving step, and the control step. At lines 9-10 and 11, "the communication apparatus" lacks antecedent basis. At line 10, "low consumption power mode" should be changed to "low power consumption mode".

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 32-34, 38, 41, and 42 are allowed.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Prior art fail to teach or fairly suggest communication apparatus and method which performs predetermined negotiation with a first device in order to prevent transiting from a present mode to a low power consumption mode and prevent prohibiting any transmission even though the first device receives the low power consumption mode transmit request, and broadcasting the low power consumption mode transit request to a plurality of devices including the first device after the negotiation step executes the predetermined negotiation with the device.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Min Jung whose telephone number is 571-272-3127. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 9:00 - 5:00.
